

DallasChocolate.org Awards 3rd Annual Scholarship to Aspiring Pastry Student

DallasChocolate.org is pleased to announce Monique Conejo as the recipient of the 2014 DallasChocolate.org Scholarship. The scholarship is awarded annually to a deserving Collin College student pursuing a degree in pastry arts. Scholarship recipients must have records of academic success and demonstrate an interest in chocolate.

Monique is currently pursuing associate degrees in culinary arts and pastry arts at Collin College. She has a passion for cooking and plans to one day be a well-known name in the industry ultimately owning a small chain of culturally diverse restaurants that reflect her background and interests.

The DallasChocolate.org Scholarship is funded by proceeds from the annual Dallas Chocolate Festival. This is the third year that DallasChocolate.org has been able to offer the scholarship. The recipient of the award the previous two years was Emily Huynh.

To stay current with DallasChocolate.org news, you can follow us on Facebook or Twitter. Tickets to the upcoming Dallas Chocolate Festival on September 13 and the Dallas Chocolate Workshops on September 14 can be purchased at <http://dallaschocolateevents.eventbrite.com>.